

Dear peter

As a long standing Builder in the UK the system they use is NHBC which as you will know is National house Builders they monitor house building and make sure each home complies it is a independent but is government monitered then you get a warranty insurance certificate which covers your new home for 10 years I believe a similar body can be set up in WA and put it ahead of the rest of Australia please find the link to www.nhbc.com.uk

With kind regards
