

ERA

Dear Messrs

Not having been involved with the inquiry or read the draft report, my first thought is to investigate how the other States have approached this problem, how its working and how we can improve on their negatives, if this has been done already what has to be kept in mind is protecting the consumer at minimal cost, perhaps bring in legislation so that this can be achieved.

Regards

Nick Prestipino

Building Practitioner