

ESL review – submission to draft report

Walker, Mr Michael

The ESL to fund VMR's is appropriate in that WA has a high per capita boat ownership. also I live in the suburbs, and I could use the "I only own property" argument to say that people who chose to live in densely timbered areas and high fire risk areas should pay the full cost of their fire service.

Why not blend the VMRs with the DOT. It seems a waste of tax payers money to have two organisations on the water, one enforcing and not able to help, and the other helping and not able to enforce.
