Under the Energy Coordination Act 1994 the ERA may, in consultation with the committee, approve a code of conduct to regulate and control the conduct of gas trading licensees and gas marketing agents in relation to the marketing of gas. This code is known as the Gas Marketing Code of Conduct.

The committee is required to carry out a review of the code every two years. The object of the review is to assess whether the code is still meeting requirements of the Act to protect customers from undesirable marketing conduct and define standards of conduct in the marketing of gas to customers. The committee will begin its next review of the code in late 2018.

Members were appointed to the committee following a call for expressions of interest.
