Rate of Return Guidelines (2018) for Gas Transmission and Distribution Networks

EXTENSION OF TIME FOR PUBLICATION OF FINAL GUIDELINES

The Economic Regulation Authority intends to publish its Final Rate of Return Guidelines for Gas Transmission Pipelines and Distribution Networks by Friday, 21 December 2018.

The ERA had planned to publish the guidelines by 16 December 2018, as required under the National Gas Rules. However, the ERA requires additional time to finalise the guidelines to ensure that all public submissions and the Independent Panel report have been considered. The ERA also undertook a separate public consultation period to consider new information on the debt risk premium process.

The extension is allowed under section 9B of the National Gas Rules.
