Electricity, gas and water services licences

Amended licence application guidelines

The Economic Regulation Authority has amended its Licence Application Guidelines – Electricity, Gas and Water Licences.

The guideline provides applicants with information about how to apply for an electricity, gas or water services licence, and information about how to submit a licence amendment, renewal and transfer application.

The ERA reviewed the guideline to ensure it remained current and to provide greater clarity for applicants and licensees on the ERA's information requirements for licence applications.
