2020 Gas Marketing Code review

Publication of draft decision

The Economic Regulation Authority has published its draft decision to repeal and replace the Gas Marketing Code of Conduct 2017. The ERA's decision follows its consideration of the Gas Marketing Code Consultative Committee's (GMCCC) Final Review Report: 2020 Gas Marketing Code of Conduct.

The ERA will now refer the proposed replacement Code back to the GMCCC for further advice. The GMCCC will undertake public consultation before it provides its advice. The ERA will take into consideration the advice it receives from the GMCCC regarding the proposed amendments when making its final decision about these amendments.

Background

The GMCCC is a statutory committee established by the ERA to advise it on matters relating to the Gas Marketing Code of Conduct. The GMCCC must conduct a review of the Code every two years.

The GMCCC consists of three industry members, three members from consumer representative organisations, two government agency representatives and a non-voting chairperson and executive officer.¹
