2022 gas rate of return instrument review

Publication of final gas instrument and explanatory statement

The ERA has published the 2022 final gas rate of return instrument and accompanying explanatory statement for the 2022 final gas rate of return instrument.

The gas instrument sets out the ERA's determination of the allowed rate of return on capital for regulated gas network service providers in Western Australia. The rate of return provides an allowance to service providers to help pay interest on loans and give a return on equity to investors.

The explanatory statement provides the ERA's reasoning supporting its determination.

The ERA reviews the gas instrument and publishes a new gas instrument every four years.

Over the course of its review, the ERA undertook extensive consultation to ensure the gas instrument is fit for purpose. This consultation included an engagement document, discussion papers, focused consultation documents and a draft instrument. The ERA thanks stakeholders that have contributed throughout this review.
