Gas Marketing Code Consultative Committee

Call for expressions of interest

The Economic Regulation Authority invites gas licensees and consumer representative organisations to express their interest in joining the Gas Marketing Code Consultative Committee (GMCCC) for a two-year term. The GMCCC is a statutory committee appointed by the Economic Regulation Authority.

Under the Energy Coordination Act 1994, the GMCCC must review the Gas Marketing Code of Conduct 2022 and provide advice to the ERA every two years. The next review of the Code will commence once the GMCCC is established.

The Gas Marketing Code regulates and controls the conduct of gas trading licences and gas marketing agents that supply and market gas to residential and non-residential small use customers by protecting customers from undesirable marketing conduct and sets the standards of conduct in the marketing of gas to customers.<sup>1</sup>

The ERA seeks three people from gas licensees and three people from consumer representative organisations to join the GMCCC. GMCCC members may be eligible for travel reimbursement and sitting fees.

A copy of the GMCCC's terms of reference is available on the ERA website.

Expressions of interest should be provided using the form available on the ERA website by 5:00 pm (WST), Friday, 3 November 2023 to:
