Economic Regulation Authority Releases New Web Site

The Economic Regulation Authority today launched an updated web site as part of its ongoing commitment to improve communications with stakeholders.

The upgrade maintains a contemporary and clean appearance while offering significant functional improvements designed to make it much easier to find information across all areas of the Authority's responsibility.

The new site is designed to be more user friendly by introducing:

- a document library search facility that greatly improves accessibility;
- an enhanced search function that simultaneously searches web page content and document library entries;
- an improved easy to follow navigation structure; and
- a breadcrumb navigation facility to readily indicate your location in the site.

This web site also supports the Western Australian Gas Disputes Arbitrator and the Energy (Gas) Review Board.

The Authority welcomes any comments or suggestions you may have on ways of improving the new site. A 'feedback' link has been added to the top navigation bar to make it easy. Alternatively please contact the Authority's Electronic Information Coordinator (contact details listed below). Your comments and suggestions will help with the ongoing improvement of the site.

Please visit the web site at www.era.wa.gov.au.
