Approval of amendment to Simply Energy's standard form contract

GAS TRADING LICENCE GTL16

The Economic Regulation Authority (ERA) has approved a minor amendment to IPower Pty Ltd and IPower 2 Pty Ltd's (trading as Simply Energy) standard form contract.

Simply Energy holds gas trading licence GTL16 to supply gas to small use customers.¹ It is a condition of GTL16 that Simply Energy has an ERA-approved standard form contract.

On 5 June 2018, Simply Energy applied to the ERA to amend clause 7.2(a) of its standard form contract to replace 'megajoules' with 'units'. This better describes how a customer's consumption data is presented on the bill. Clause 7.2(a) includes a description of how a 'unit' of gas is calculated for billing purposes.

The ERA did not undertake public consultation on this minor amendment, consistent with its Consultation Guidelines.

Simply Energy's amended standard form contract is available on the ERA website.
