Call for expressions of interest - Gas Marketing Code Consultative Committee Membership

TERM 2018 - 2020

Expressions of interest are called for six representatives from industry and consumer representative groups to join the Gas Marketing Code Consultative Committee.

The Economic Regulation Authority (ERA) established the Committee in 2004 to provide advice on matters relating to the Gas Marketing Code of Conduct. The Code regulates and controls the conduct of retailers and gas marketing agents that supply and market gas to residential and non-residential small use customers (those customers who consume no more than one terajoule of gas per year).

Under the Energy Coordination Act 1994, the Committee undertakes a review of the Code and provides advice to the ERA every two years. The next review of the Code will commence in October 2018.

The ERA seeks three people from industry, or industry organisations, and three people from consumer organisations.

A copy of the Committee's terms of reference is available on the ERA website.

The membership term will be for the period 1 October 2018 – 30 September 2020. Members may be eligible for travel reimbursement and sitting fees.

Expressions of interest, using the form available on the ERA website, should be provided by 12 September 2018 to:
