Australian Energy Market Operator allowable revenue and forecast capital expenditure proposal for 2019/20 to 2021/22

Invitation for public submissions

The Economic Regulation Authority has published an issues paper on the proposal from the Australian Energy Market Operator (AEMO) for allowable revenue of $104.241 million and forecast capital expenditure of $78.477 million for the period 1 July 2019 to 30 June 2022. The proposed funding is for AEMO to:

- Fulfil its market operation, system management, market administration and market planning functions in the Wholesale Electricity Market.
- Undertake additional market reform functions conferred by the Minister for Energy in June 2018.
- Fulfil its obligations under the Gas Service Information rules, including operating the Gas Bulletin Board and publishing the Gas Statement of Opportunities.

AEMO provided its proposal to the ERA on 15 March 2019. The proposal is available on the ERA website.

The review process

There will be a two-stage consultation process for stakeholders during the ERA's review of and decision on AEMO's funding proposal.

- This call for submissions on the issues paper and AEMO's proposal.
- A further call for submissions on the ERA's draft determination paper planned for release in early May.

Both consultation periods will be for four weeks. The ERA will take into account the information received through both consultation processes in making its final determination.
