Publication of performance data

Water and sewerage schemes (1,000 to 9,999 connections)

The Economic Regulation Authority has published 2017/18 performance data for Western Australian water and sewerage supply schemes with between 1,000 and 9,999 connections on its website.

The ERA has also decided to discontinue publication of the annual Water, Sewerage and Irrigation Performance Data Report, which included data for water sewerage and supply schemes with 1,000 or more connections.

The data for supply schemes with 10,000 or more connections is already available in the National Performance Report 2017-18: Urban Water Utilities, published by the Bureau of Meteorology. This report allows readers to compare the performance of Western Australian water service companies with their peers in other states.
