AER Retail

Minor amendment to electricity retail licence

The Economic Regulation Authority has approved an amendment to AER Retail Pty Ltd's electricity retail licence ERL18. The amendment is to remove the authorisation to supply electricity to small use business customers¹.

AER Retail ceased to supply electricity to small use business customers in May 2023 and does not intend to supply this customer type in the future. AER Retail's licence does not authorise the supply of electricity to small use residential customers.

The ERA considers the change to the licence to be a minor amendment that does not require public consultation.

The amended licence ERL18 (version 6) is available on the ERA website.
